Trials of a Patriot who wanted to save his Country.

The Buffalo Republic contains the following graphic account of the troubles of an unfortunate Frenchman, whose efforts to save his adopted country well nigh proved fatal to him:

MONSIEUR EDITOR.—I have been in this country half year, and on the last week I travel to the court house, and I have profane myself with one swear of allegiance to the country, and aged Black as I proceed in.

Ver good. I have one vote for to save the country, so my neighbor say, who lives in the house on top of me, (second story, perhaps).—Ed. and he say "vote ver moosh, all ze time, and vote early in ze morning. So I see my wife will eat me so early in ze morning, and I will go vote very moosh. Ver good.—I eat my breakfast in ze hurry and I go down in ze first ward. Ven I dare I go in de pole and I ask him hav I von little vote here, and several Milesians crowd around me, and say here is ze right vote. I say I wish for vote for Lafayette, de papa of ze country.—and ze Irishman de papa of Lafayette not ze papa of dis country.—he is only ze brozen-in-law.—Den I see to him, for whom shall I put in ze little vote den.—and a ver solemn man, who appear so sorry dat I think he has big sore somewhere, he take ze vote and he say, I will vote you ze vote for save your country, and he gave mozie vote, and he never smile all ze life.

For Sheriff, ISRAEL T. VADWORTH. For County Jailor, T. S. CURTIS. For City Printer, DENNIS O'DONNELL. For ze Spools, BUFFALO CARRIAGE. For ze Blooded, JAMES O. LUCKIE BRYAN. For ze Senator, LEVI J. HAN AND EGGS.

He never smile when he gave me ze, but say:—Now you have save your country. Go and put him in ze pole. I go to ze pole to put him in, wen, an, deux fois men say.—Have you been naturalize? and I say "I am naturalize!" and I was bussel from ze pole sans ceremonie, and my pantaloon break in ze back of dem viz a big hole.—I say to myself no save your country here.—he is say: already by ze man in ze boat, and I goes to unner pulley, and I light my cigar viz ze little vote of ze first ward.

I den becommote to ze second ward, and I discover abundance of polite gentillomine who desire to save ze country many times. I inquire ze little vote, and ze sorry gentillomine of ze first ward he approach me and say, "Ah, Monsieur, you save your country same more." I say "Oui, but I not save my pants.—will you present my compliments to ze man viz ze line, and say I hope he will recover." My sorry friend den sez, "You will have a good vote eh? Frenchman!" I say "Oui," and he write dis for me:—

For Coroner, HARMONY CURTIS. For Sheriff, CHARLES WOLFE BOGGS. For Scavenger, G. D. W. MICHAEL MURRAIN. For ze Owner of ze Parly, DICKY BRYAN. For ze this Manufacturer, LYMAN BREMER.

He hand ze little vote to me, and he says, Now you will rally on ze constitution, and save your country again. And I say I are come to save ze country and rally on ze constitution. And several persons say "have you been naturalize?" and I retire and ask my sorry friend of I are been naturalize. And he say you look at me: can you see me? I say, of course. Den he say, Den you are been naturalize. And I go to ze pole and I say you look at my eyes: I have ze naturalize.

Several gentillomine laugh ver moosh, and I was bussel again in ze street, and my nose r-rub in ze gutter. And I say, is viz you call save ze country? and I travel off. Ze sorry man follows me, and he say, You go ze Ninth Ward.—you save ze country re. So I go viz my sorry friend to ze Ninth Ward, and when he come to a corner he go round it, and laugh ver moosh all by himself, and den he come back ver sorry again. Bimebye we get by ze Nine Ward pole, and my friend he take me in Council Chamber, and he write me run more little vote for save my country.—208.

For Constable, ALFRED DES PAULDING. Overseeing ze Poor Folks, EDWIN D. MORGAN. For Congress, T. S. CURTIS. For Postmaster, GEORGE DICKIE BRYAN. For Custom-House Collector, GEORGE SEAVER BRYAN.

Now, sez he, you put him in ze pole. I go to ze pole, and I enquire if dis is ze pole to save country, and I exhibit to the pole me vote, and Ze country has gone to ———. I have been kick all ovale Franklin Square, and my pantaloon is bust terribl. My hat is (what you may call him) cut in, my nose is all on down flat on my eye. I will save ze country no more. D—n ze politics. Au revoir ALPHONSE DE SAUTY.

ACTION OF SUGAR ON THE TEETH.—M. Lavez of France, in the course of his investigations on the teeth, has arrived at the following conclusions: First, that refined sugar, either from cane or beets, is injurious to healthy teeth, either by immediate contact with these organs, or by the gas developed owing to its stayage in the stomach; second, that if a tooth is incriminated in a saturated solution of sugar, it is so much altered in the chemical composition that it becomes gelatinous, and its enamel opaque, puggy, and easily broken; third, this mode of action is due, not to free acid, but to a tendency of sugar to combine with the calcareous basis of the teeth.

A youth who desired to wear the matrimonial yoke had not sufficient courage to "pop the question." On informing his father of the difficulty he labored under, the old man replied, quite passionately, "Why, you boy, how do you think I managed with a girl married?" "Oh, yes," said the promising lover, "you married neither, but I got to marry a strange girl."

Ready for Winter!

The Season of Snow, with its keen and frosty air, its bleak and piercing winds, and its need of extra clothing, fuel, and comforts to the homes, is but a little way before us. We can hardly expect it will prove milder than the last; indeed, the chances are that it will be much more severe—and the object of these paragraphs is, to direct the attention of our rent-paying and laboring readers to the duty of a speedy preparation for Winter, if they have not already made it.

Wealthy citizens, and the proprietors of their own homes, are always measurably equipped for the cold season.

Working men ought to be generally in a much better condition now, to meet the rigors of Winter, than they were a year ago. Then, there had been a great revulsion in the trading, Banking and working world; active business had well-nigh stagnated—men had been thrown out of employ by hundreds and thousands, in city and country; those with families dependent upon their efforts, often facing no better than single men; and with Winter staring them full in the face it was indeed a gloomy time. But now the scene is changed.—Business, in all departments, has been reasonably active the past season; labor has been in demand at fair wages; the land has smiled with a bounteous harvest, and the comforts of life, even for the most indigent season, ought to be within the reach of all.

If the severe trials of the last winter, on the part of the laboring poor, shall have failed to teach them some salutary lessons of industry and economy, it is not easy to see what sort of discipline would be likely to prove effectual in their case. Bees, ants and squirrels do not need any lessons of adversity, to impel them to make provision for the winter. Surely men ought not to be less wise, prudent and provident than the inferior animals.

It is said that two own brothers of young Rogers, exalted in New York last week, called on the Sheriff and asked permission to see their brother hung! The application was very properly, refused by the Sheriff. It is further stated, that before the body was cut down, one of the brothers of the deceased, a red-bearded, violent looking Irishman, came into the court yard and gazed unconcernedly at the dead body of his kinsman, looked on while it was cut down and the cap removed from the distorted face, and then crowded his way into the room where the undertakers were placing the remains of the boy in the coffin. Mrs. Swanson, the widow of the murdered man, was very importunate for a pass to enable her to witness the execution. Rogers was twenty years old at the time of his death. The murder was committed on the 17th of October, 1857.

The opera season in New York has opened with unusual brilliancy. A full house attended the representation of Don Giovanni Friday evening. The same evening an entertainment was given by Mr. C. Jerome Hopkins to a small number of invited guests. He was assisted by Mr. Mollenhauer, the violinist, and Miss Andem, soprano singer. The performance is highly spoken of by the Express. Saturday a matinee was given, and La Bode made her debut at the Academy of Music as Norma, and Niccolini appeared for the first time in America, in La Serva Padrona.

In Sacramento, California, a short time since, a Chinaman walked into a grocery store kept by Mrs. Sarah Neal, and finding her alone, snatched her in the breast twice, so that she died in a few minutes. He ran out of the door with the knife in his hand and his clothes spattered with blood, was seized by the crowd, and two hours later was hanging from the limb of a tree—dead. That's the way they do it in California.

THE INDIAN WAR EXPEND.—The Oregon Indian war has been brought to a close, a treaty having been concluded with the various hostile tribes, who have acceded to every demand made upon them by the agents of this Government. Thus millions of dollars have been saved to the country, and lost to rapacious speculators.

A collision occurred last week, in Long Island Sound, between schooner New York and the propeller Charles Osgood of Norwich, Ct., in which the latter got the worst of it, and sunk in five minutes. The crew and ten passengers on board the propeller were saved, but lost everything but what they stood in.

A new candidate for musical favor a boy pianist aged fourteen, named Arthur Napoleon, born in Portugal, has made his debut in Europe. His biography has been published, attached to which are various notices of his performances, some of them bearing the names of great European critics and all speaking in laudatory terms of the young musician. He will shortly visit the United States.

At a foot race in Chelsea, Mass., last week, an Indian, ran fifteen miles in one hour twenty-nine minutes and fifty seconds. Two American runners who entered the race gave out—one on the first mile and the other on the fifth. A purse of five hundred dollars was the prize contested for.

An acorn has been produced in Moulton, Lavaca county, Texas, measuring six inches in circumference around the cup, and four inches around the acorn itself.

The city debt of Providence, exclusive of the bonds issued to the H. P. & T. Railroad, now amounts to $746,433.15. The expenditures for the past year have exceeded the receipts about $21,000.

LOCAL NEWS.

The weather took a new wrinkle, yesterday, altogether, and the result was the first snow storm of the season. It came in big flakes and little flakes, and fell steadily and noiselessly, but some how it would not "stay put," turning to water the moment it reached the earth, much to the detriment of the ladies' clean white skirts. Such a state of things is decidedly unfavorable to the present fashion of long dresses, &c.

The individual who took the pair of oars belonging to our News Boat, from the place where they were deposited in Finch & Eggs' lumber yard, under the impression that we should have no further use for them, was very much mistaken, and will please replace them, or bear the pains of a guilty conscience as long as he lives, and, albeit, an exposure in the paper.

There will be a meeting, to-night, of colored persons and their friends, at the Methodist church in Spruce Street, on the "Public School Question." Addresses will be delivered by several speakers, of this city and from Providence. We understand the public are invited to attend.

TARCATUA.—"Once on a time, a motion was started, that if all the people in the world would shout at once, it might be heard in the moon. So the Projectors agreed it should be done just ten years.—Some thousand ship loads of chronometers were distributed to the select men, and other great folks of all nations. For a year before hand, nothing else was talked about but the awful noise that was to be made on the great occasion. When the time came, everybody had their ears so wide open, to hear the universal ejaculation of Boo, the word agreed upon—that nobody spoke except a deaf man in one of the Pelee Islands, and a woman in Pekin, so the world was never so still since the creation. (From Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.) at WARD'S 130 Thames-street.

COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL.—No. 1, Vol. III. of this magnificent journal of Art is on our table. The number before us is the ne plus ultra of artistic excellence. The engravings, both steel and electrotype, are superb, while the letter press is faultless.

The former are two in number—"Cleopatra applying the Asp," and "The First Pair of Boots." The article "Character in Scenery," by the Editor, is illustrated by three electrotype engravings, being views "On the Rondout" and "On the Juniata," and "Catakill Mountain Scenery."

"Masters of Art and Literature"—the 8th article of the series,—is illustrated by portraits of J. F. Herring, William Louis Souther, Anna Cora Ritchie, and Edward Everett. Then follow two full page plates—"The Gipsy Mother," "November," and "December." The literary department of the work is well sustained, as usual.

Accompanying the Art Journal, we are furnished with a proof impression, on steel, of Herring's master-piece of Art, "The Village Blacksmith," which has received the unqualified praise of the press throughout the United States—which it richly deserves. The painting and engraving, with their entire copyright and exclusive control, has been secured by the Association at a heavy cost, and under such favorable circumstances that they are enabled to offer to subscribers to the Journal for three dollars, that which has formerly been held at thirty, twenty and ten dollars, for the different impressions.

The subscription price of the Journal is $2 per year, and it should be in every family laying any claim to refinement. The advertisement of the Association will be found in our columns.

THE AUTOCRAT OF THE BREAKFAST TABLE.—Every man his own Boswell. Boston: Phillips Sampson & Co. MDCCCLVIII.

This is a book just issued from the press of that enterprising and discriminating publishing house, Phillips, Sampson & Co.; being a reprint of those entertaining papers under that title which have appeared in the numbers of the ATLANTIC MONTHLY. The book in question is a 12 mo. volume of 373 pages, including a capacious index, the whole being profusely illustrated. The "Autocrat" appears to advantage anywhere, but more especially in the pages of this nearly printed book. The admirers of those papers will thank Messrs. P. S. & Co., for their reproduction in a connected form, and all will read them with satisfaction. Oliver Wendell Holmes is the author.

THE HARVEST AND THE REAPERS' HOME
WORK FOR ALL, and HOW TO DO IT.—
By Rev. Harvey Newcomb, of Brooklyn, Gould & Lincoln, Boston.

This is a work dedicated to the converts in the Revival of 1853, the more especial object of which is, as stated in the preface, "not only to awaken a deep interest in personal efforts for the conversion of souls to Christ, but to suggest some plans for the better direction of that interest, so as to bring the members of our churches generally into living contact with the unevangelized masses around them," than whom no man is better fitted for such a work than Mr. Newcomb. He is the author of several works, among which may be named the "Cyclopedia of Missions." The little volume is published in the neat style which marks all the publications of Gould & Lincoln, and treats, familiarly, upon the "spiritual condition of nominally christian lands, duty of christians to their unconverted neighbors and friends, feelings of christians in view of the unconverted, a plan for carrying the gospel to every creature in the land, hints to christians on personal effort for the conversion of souls, reflex influence on personal effort, connection of prayer with the dispensation of mercy, prayer meetings, revivals, and concludes with a cogent address to the christian reader. It is a timely book and a book for the times.

Fashions. (Cloaks.)
From our own Correspondent.

It has been no light task, among the various, tasteful, and fanciful styles, pressed into notice—the Andalusian, the Etruscan, the Eugenic, the Piccolomini—some of them but new names for the improved and elaborate "Circular" and "Haglan," to select those which will gain favor for their elegant simplicity, united to some pretension to novelty. And it is only such that I would attempt the description of, to the fair readers of the News.

The circulars of the present season have wide and deep flowing sleeves, with a long point, or several points, say three each, finished with a tassel, to correspond with the long pointed and tasseled boots. Though we have seen a few made with a fold, from the shoulder down, forming a sleeve, and a Bertha trimming, of wide ornamented fringe descending to a point behind. The Haglans are finished in a similar style, with regard to hood and sleeves, and it has also pocket wells, trimmed to match the hood and sleeves, with tassels also. Some have a cape pointed behind, and tasseled. A new and pretty style has a deep flounce plated on to yoke, the latter trimmed with a wide and rich fringe. This was of velvet. Plain cloth, Beaver cloth, and velvet are all in high favor, and black the prevailing color. Brown cloths trimmed with bright colored plaid velvet is also fashionable. And fringes, chenille, velvet and lace are all made to do duty as trimmings. Some are only bound round with plain or ornamental binding.

Perley Poore writes from Washington to the Boston Journal. "Miss Lane has not yet returned from a visit to Philadelphia. Mr. Corcoran and daughter will pass the winter at Cuba. Governor W. B. Lawrence, of Rhode Island is here, as applicant on his foreign mission. General Pillsbury Walker is at Brown's Hotel. Senator Nicholson, of Tennessee, is at Kirkwood's. Rev. Mr. Halcy, formerly of Massachusetts, has been elected Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons."

The American portion of the population in Liberia have commenced, with much spirit, the cultivation of cotton. President Benson, in a recent letter says: "There has been twenty times more cotton planted by American-Liberians this year than ever before, of both native and foreign seed, and I feel sanguine that its cultivation will increase each succeeding year."

Mr. Johnson, a tinker of Brooklyn, N. Y., was on Thursday fined three dollars for kissing Mrs. Brown, keeper of a grocery, on the same street, "without justification."

HAZARD & CASWELL'S
PURE & GENUINE LIGHT STRAW-COLORED MEDICINAL
COD LIVER OIL,
PREPARED FROM SELECTED LIVERS ONLY.

The great remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Asthma, Rheumatism, Scrofula, Indurated Wasting, General Debility, and all diseases arising from deficient nutrition.

Professor Parker, in the "American Medical Monthly," says:

"We have had patients use it, who had tried almost every manufacturer's oil, and give this the decided preference. It is easily digested, and does what is expected of it. It is a light, straw-colored, has none of the rancid flavor, but is sweet and pleasant."

Professors Palmer and Gunn, in the "Penny Medical Monthly," say:

"We pronounce it to be a free from odor, color and taste, as Cod Liver Oil seemingly can be."

From Professor A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts:

"I have subjected to chemical analysis the Cod Liver Oil prepared and put up for sale by Messrs. Hazard & Caswell, of Newport, R. I. It proves, in comparison with the other compounds, essential to efficiency of action, and in comparison with the finest specimen I have seen of foreign origin, it takes the highest place."

The importance of having a reliable source from which this valuable remedy, in a state of purity, can be obtained, leads me to recommend, with confidence, this excellent article.

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., Assayer to State of Massachusetts.

The testimony of every Resident Physician corresponds with the opinion of Professor Hayes, viz:

James V. Turner, M. D., Theo. C. Dunn, M. D., David King, M. D., H. K. Turner, M. D., Daniel Watson, M. D., W. Argyle Watson, M. D., Samuel W. Butler, M. D., H. C. BELL, Chief Doctor, of Philadelphia, says: "It is unquestioned by that of any other manufacturer, for freshness, freedom from taste and odor. It is more efficient than any similar article yet offered."

Our Oil, if not too long kept by the dealer, is perfectly sweet and palatable, not requiring to be manufactured into emulsions or jellies, to conceal a nauseous taste, as inferior Oils do.

The testimony of hundreds, to the same effect, can be presented, but any one acquainted with the sensible properties of the Oil will at once perceive its great superiority over any heretofore offered to the public. It is certain to relieve, on the spot, the most distressing cases of Cough, Croup, and all the affections of the throat and lungs, and upon the morbid capsule covering the lungs.

THE LIVER

IN VIGORATOR.

PREPARED BY DR. A. NORD.

Compounded Entirely from Gums.

Is one of the best Purgative and Liver Stim-ulents now before the public, that more than any Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

Weakness is one of the most common ailments, and when it is present, the system and the organs are affected, and the liver, in particular,
is the seat of the disease.
The liver is the organ
which secretes the bile,
and the bile is the principal element of the food. If the liver is weak, the bile is not secreted in proper quantity, and the food is not properly
digested, and the system is weakened.

For the disease of the liver, the best remedy
is the one which strengthens the
system, and builds
it up with unusual
rapidity.

For the disease of the
liver, the best remedy
is the one which
strengthens the
system, and builds
it up with unusual
rapidity.

MORE THAN 500,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN NEW ENGLAND LAST YEAR.

The representative of Prof. C. J. WOOLFE's restoring hair perfectly and permanently has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most illustrious to prove that "it is a perfect Restorative;" but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:—

"LETTER FROM—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only admirable ways. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often improved upon by this Toronto different. We request, that you will earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for Wood's Restorative there is even such thing as to fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tines and must be beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best remedies for keeping the hair in good condition making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff and has proved itself the greatest enemy to the lice that infest the hair.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—[Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.]

Corrocton, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. WOOD & CO.—GENTS: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Mackintosh), and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or
